Marketing Concept

The marketing concept states that in order for a business to make a profit they must satisfy customers' needs and wants.

- Customers – are the people who buy the products

  – Consumers – are the people who actually use the product